

SUPERB CITY WRENS

Help us find our Fairy-wrens! Do a 15-minute wren-watch in Maribyrnong

We're inviting people in Maribyrnong to be part of an urban bird bioblitz from the 24th – 30th November. Superb Fairy-wrens (sometimes called "blue wrens") and other small birds are declining in cities. Maribyrnong City Council, along with other local councils and community groups across Melbourne are working to bring them back into our parks and gardens.

You can help! By doing "wren-watches" during the bioblitz week you can help us find out where these little birds are hiding across the city and understand more about what type of landscape they need to thrive.

How to Wren-watch

1. Download the iNaturalist app to your phone and make an account. Search for the "Superb City Wrens" project and click "join".
2. Pick a location! This can be anywhere – your backyard, a park, even a local street OR you can choose one of the priority locations in your area below (check the map too).
3. Once you are at your wren-watch location, start a 15-minute timer and look for any small birds!
4. When you see a bird, open iNaturalist and record the sighting using the "+" button. If you get a photo, that's great, but you can also add a sighting with "no media".
5. Put the bird species ID in the "What did you see?" box, and don't forget to add it to "Superb City Wrens" in the project box.
6. Stop after 15 minutes. If you saw no birds at all, please record this as an "absence" in the "What did you see" box as it's important information too!

Places to look (check on the map too):

- Stony Creek Reserve
- Newell's Paddock Wetland Reserve
- Frogs Hollow Wetland & Pipemaker's Park
- Maribyrnong River escarpment

Male Superb Fairy-wren

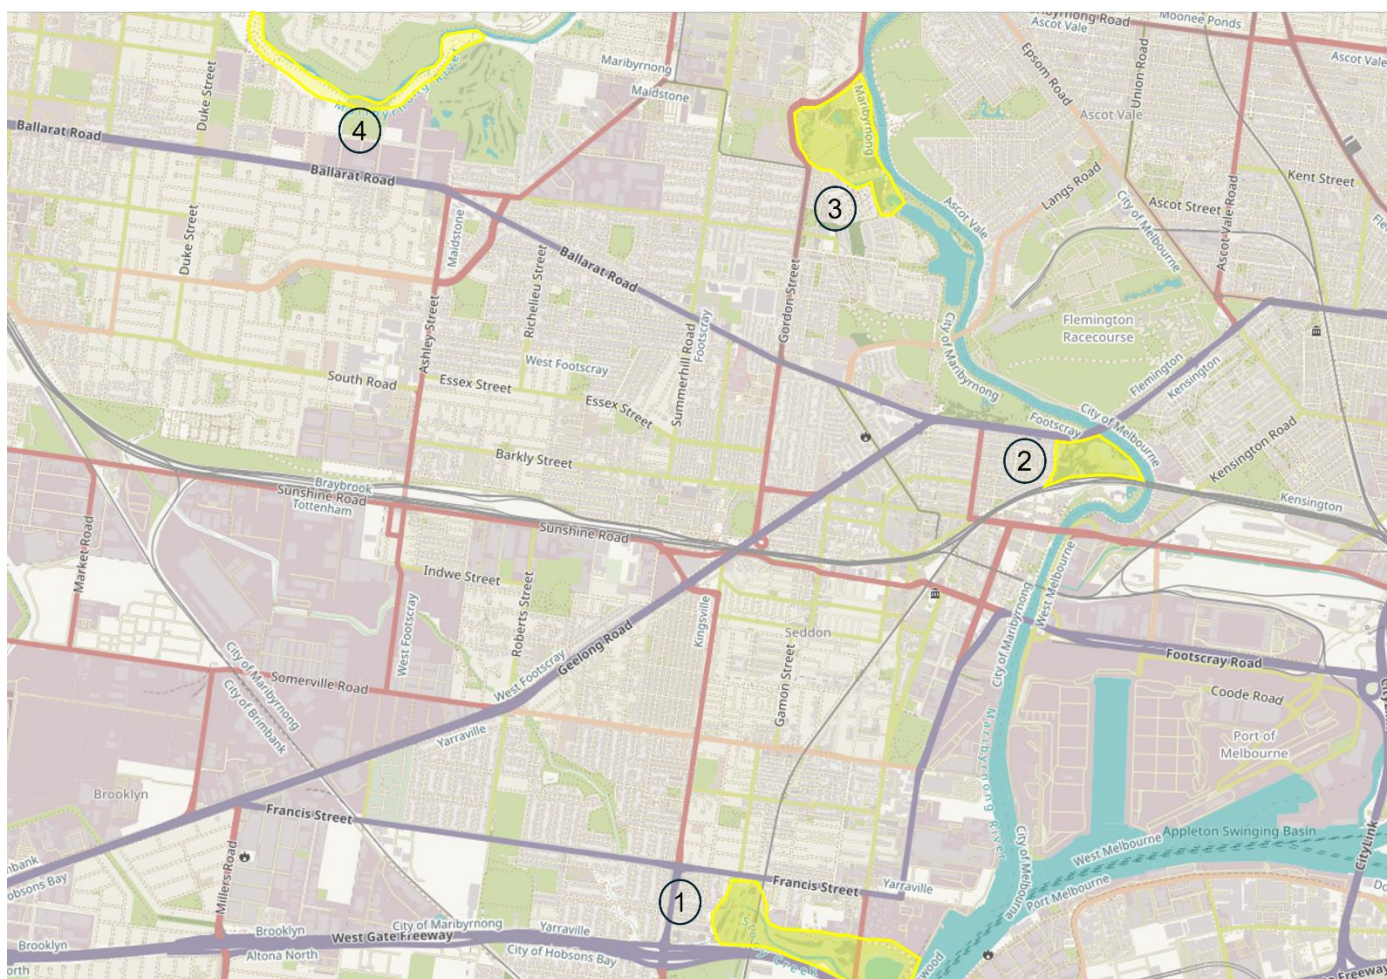

Female Superb Fairy-wren

For more information about the project, go to superbcitywrens.com

Free lunchtime webinar link here or <https://tinyurl.com/56a9h5xx>

Join us online at 12:30pm Weds 27th November to learn more!

Important places in the City of Maribyrnong to hunt for small urban birds:

1. Lower Stony Creek – Stony Creek Reserve (between the Westgate Golf Course and Hyde St)
2. Newell's Paddock Wetland Reserve, Footscray (adjacent to Maribyrnong River, south of Ballarat Road)
3. Frogs Hollow Wetland and Pipemaker's Park, Maribyrnong
4. Maribyrnong River escarpment, adjacent to Cranwell Park, Braybrook.